21		ORDER RE COST OF PRODUCING DOCUMENTS IN CYGNUS'S POSSESSION
23	As noted in this court's July 14, 2006 order, Cygnus's counsel possesses approximately 24	twenty-five boxes of documents from past Cygnus infringement actions which defendants want
25	scanned and placed in the parties' discovery depository. Cygnus objected that it should not have t
26	pay for producing these documents. The court preliminarily approved defendants' suggestion that 27	they be allowed to have these documents scanned at their expense, with the possibility that they at
28	some point in the future be allowed to seek reimbursement of some of this cost from Cygnus.

ORDER RE COST OF PRODUCING DOCUMENTS IN CYGNUS'S POSSESSION—MDL-1423 14 H

Defendants' liaison counsel estimated that it would cost $17,000 to scan the contents of the twenty-five boxes of documents subject to the limitations of the July 14, 2006 order. See Report of Liaison Counsel (July 17, 2006). At the August 18, 2006 hearing, the parties informed the court that counsel for defendant AT&T Corporation, Gregory B. Wood, had assumed the responsibility for sorting through these boxes and deciding what should be scanned. The estimate seems reasonable enough for the undertaking as limited by Mr. Wood's sorting. Defendants may therefore scan these documents at their own expense and move for reimbursement from Cygnus at some future date, if appropriate. The court tentatively finds that Cygnus should bear the expense of scanning those documents that is required to disclose pursuant to Fed.R.Civ.P. 26(a)(1).
Also at the August 18, 2006 hearing, counsel for Cygnus reported that another defendant

Also at the August 18, 2006 hearing, counsel for Cygnus reported that another defendant wanted to independently examine the contents of the boxes for itself, although all participating in the hearing agreed to abide by Mr. Wood's decision on what documents should be scanned. No party was identified as objecting to this procedure. If any defendant other than AT&T wishes to examine these boxes, it must obtain court approval before doing so.¹

¹ If counsel for the defendants in the newest additions to MDL proceedings before this court (those in cases C-06-03843 RMW and C-06-04295 RMW) object on the basis that they have not agreed to have Mr. Wood examine the documents in these boxes for them, they may apply to the court for permission to review the documents themselves.
